1. Nine U-boats are located in the coastal area between Gruz and Ulcinj. The technical division for this sector is located in Perast-Risan, and is supervised by Russian Navy engineer Golikow, Captain 11nd Class. The operational division is located in the fortifications at Vrmac and is commanded by Captain 1st Class Oktjabrski, brother of the Soviet Supreme Commander of the Black Sea squadron. In addition, there are five to six younger officers, 50 to 70 sailors and technical personnel. A radio station is located at Zelenika.
2. The U-boats are not modern. Three large ones with no markings and camouflaged with colored paint, are equipped with 75 mm. deck guns, Russian model. Six small ones, German "Model 41", camouflaged grey-green, with no visible markings, having 25 mm. deck guns, Czech model. The three large U-boats are usually moored at Cavtat during the day; at night they put out to sea, usually in the direction of Korcula. Three small U-boats are at present based in Budva, and the three others are constantly on patrol between Ulcinj and Albanian ports. According to these nine U-boats are to go to Kotor. Small ones are due to arrive from Sibenik and large ones from the North Adriatic.
3. A fuel dump has been located behind Risan in the direction of Crkvice. Installations are buried and are camouflaged with colored awnings and nets. Tanks are of a German "Diesel oil" type. The area is guarded by youth brigades "Ivo-Lola Ribar". No one is allowed to approach the area closer than 50 meters.
4. learned from workers in the Gruz arsenal that eight of the small type U-boats are being assembled there. Large quantities of parts, engines, and equipment arrive daily on trailers drawn by large Soviet-type tractors. The arsenal operates on three shifts. There are many German and Czech workers and most of the foremen are either German or Russian.
